Players need to bring everything you need to play a complete game. Players are expected to bring their army, dice, tape measure, and all relevant rules publications. If you are using any electronic devices to carry your official rules references, please ensure they are charged and available for reference at all times.

Players should have their own deck of Secondary Missions or be prepared to use the Tabletop Battles app and ensure their opponents see them selecting random missions via the app.

Players should bring Wound Trackers for their army. GW Wound Trackers or any 10-sided die works perfect for this. Wounds should be marked as "Wounds Remaining" on the models.

It is strongly recommended that each player bring a laser pointer or Line Of Sight system and a display table or a rolling cart to place their books and unused models on during the event.

Dice apps will not be allowed at events.

Notes Concerning GW Chapter Approved Tournament Companion

Notes Concerning Chapter Approved Tournament Companion.

1. #5 Create Battlefield-Layouts are determined by paired Dispositions, if the terrain seems off please adjust using the companion measurements and have both players agree prior to deploying armies.
2. #10 Redeply Units- If a player decides not to resolve any steps, they are done resolving this step.
3. #12 Resolving Pre-Battle Rules- If a player decides not to resolve any steps, they are done resolving this step.

Army Construction and Painting Guide

All armies in the event must be Battle-forged and follow guidance according to the Warhammer 40,000 Core Rule Book (11th Ed). Armies should utilize the most up to date rules provided in Games Workshop publications.

Players will post their lists in an easy-to-read format (such as the format found on the GW Warhammer 40K app) with all relevant war gear and unit upgrades. Please DO NOT use a different faction under player details from the one utilized you are playing in the Best Coast Pairing app.

Part of the experience includes showing off and playing against beautifully constructed and painted armies.

Away Games™ recommends that all armies be at least Battle Ready standard, as described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Rule Book (11th Ed). (Armies that are not completely Battle Ready standard will not receive points awarded for painted armies on each scoresheet.) A Paint Judging matrix, found HERE, will also be used for the Best Overall/Renaissance Award, along with Best Painted. Below are some examples of models painted to a Battle Ready standard.

Note: Each model should attempt to accurately represent its entry on each player's army list represented by WYSIWYG (What You See Is What You Get).

Conversions are great and are encouraged, though for fairness, all conversions should be comparable in size to the most current version of the model they represent. Players should not gain a benefit from converted models and will be subject to penalties for doing so. Any converted or scratch-built models, need to be approved prior to the list submission cutoff date. If players do not receive approval for conversions before this date, they run the risk of the model being removed from play or possibly incurring score penalties or worse. For approval, please contact Away Games™ at contact@theawaygames.com and provide photos, measurements, side-by-sides and a brief explanation of the model and what it represents.

We have also created a Proxy Request channel inside the NTL Discord (<https://discord.gg/Hs7zuGshZ5>). If a model receives approval there, that model/unit, specifically, is approved at all Away Games hosted events hence forth. However, if there are ANY updates to the model/unit (changing bolters to flamers, load-out, etc.), they will need to receive an updated approval. It is the responsibility of the Player to ensure their Proxy Approval is here and remains for events they are attending.

Note: Models should be based according to the current Games Workshop Base Size Guide located here.

Tournament Organizers and Policies

Away Games™ will provide a Tournament Organizer (Head Judge) and other Judges throughout the event. Organizers will be in distinctive attire during the event to ensure they are visibly seen. Prior to a Judge being called over for rulings, players should attempt to resolve their questions or issues beforehand. If a Judge is needed, please call out “judge” and hold up your hand for visibility. Please be prepared to provide any relevant rules for the particular situation. Judges’ rulings will always be based on correct rules interpretations rather than adhering to previous precedent. If a player is unhappy with a call, they can request the Head Judge for final ruling, however this is the final say on all game rules and issues.

Judges will be “active judges” and will actively stop instances of illegal play, with or without a player’s specific request for intervention. Understandably there will not be Judges at every table, and all instances of foul play cannot be prevented. The goal of Away Games™ is to do the best we can to ensure all the games are as enjoyable as possible for all players.

Players should know that behavior such as bullying, rules abuse, moving models illegally, picking up dice before your opponent has the chance to see the results, lying to tournament organizers or opponents, or any other form of unethical or inappropriate conduct can result in substantial in-game penalties, an automatic loss assessment, permanent removal of parts of your army for the duration of the event, removal from the event itself or any future Away Games™ events. Accidental errors will always occur, however, a “foul is a foul,” and Judges will treat them as penalties. The Tournament Organizer is empowered to apply both in game and scoring penalties equivalent to the level of the foul.

Rounds and Timing

First round opponents will be randomly determined. Subsequent rounds will use “Win-Path” to pair opponents in each round thereafter. By doing this, players will pair against someone with the same record and who won and lost their games in the same rounds. Examples of this are players losing round one, versus round two will have different algorithms when paired. Pairings are conducted in this way to ensure players with a similar strength of schedule pair off and to ensure an increasing level of skill parity and sportsmanship with each subsequent round.

During each round, tournament organizers will announce the time remaining in the round, throughout the round. These announcements are used to help keep the flow of play moving and afford players a “pace of play.”

If a player wishes to utilize a clock, both players at the table will use the clock. Both players will be afforded the same amount of time on the clock and should sync the time with the amount of time in the round. Also, if a player wishes to use a clock after a round has started, the remaining time will be split evenly, and the clock will be used.

Players are encouraged to finish their games. If a game is not on a clock, and there is under 10 minutes remaining in a round, besides round 5, players can choose not to start another battle round. The players have to both agree to start another round. If one player does not want to start another round, the round will not be started. If a game is on a clock, players can play until their time expires, as long as it aligns with the Master Clock or BCP Clock. (We strongly encourage using a clock so there are no disagreements on players utilizing more or less time than their opponents.) There is a hard “dice down” policy for games once the round time is complete. This means if the round timer ends and players have not completed their game, it ends where it is. There will be no 'end game scoring' mechanics. Additionally, players attending should feel comfortable playing a complete game within the allotted time with the army they are utilizing. (Intentionally leveraging the clock to disadvantage your opponent should never happen and if identified, can create penalties.)

Note: The use of a chess clock is mandatory for all games of the top 4 in the Event’s final two Rounds. Failure to use a clock in the final two Rounds MAY result in penalties.

Event Guidelines

Terrain Guidelines

The event will be following the GW layouts that are represented in the GW Event Companion. (These are determined by the players dispositions match-ups.)

Each combination of Primary Missions has three recommended layouts, labeled A, B and C. Players will use the layout specified per Round.

Note: Upon reaching your table please adjust the terrain appropriately. Please note that its on the players to discuss and ensure all the terrain is fair and equal. If uncertain whether the layout is precisely correct, please call a Judge over for assistance.

Away Games™ Examples

(Note all Windows, Doors and Cracks are closed on 1st floors.)

We've denoted each terrain feature from that set as either a dense or light terrain feature in these layouts. The configurations of the terrain features and terrain areas are designed to create the best experience with the Hidden rule and movement rules for various units, and to create plenty of interesting decisions during a battle. We've also purposely left space between a terrain feature and the edge of the terrain area to allow a line of models to be on the terrain area from the 'outside'.

If you do not have the Battlefields: Armageddon terrain, it is possible to recreate these layouts with your own terrain that is close to the same size of the various terrain features by denoting for all players if they are dense or light terrain features.

| TERRAIN AREA FOOTPRINT SIZE | QUANTITY |
|-----------------------------|----------|
| 6" x 4"                     | 4        |
| 10" x 2.5"                  | 2        |
| 6" x 2"                     | 4        |
| 7" x 11.5"                  | 4        |
| 8" x 11.5" Polygon          | 2        |

Paint Judging

For paint scoring, if your army is fully Battle Ready painted you will receive 10 points towards your round score. If your army is NOT fully painted, you will receive 0 points towards your round score. There is no minimum painting for this event, so bring what you like.

Armies that go above and beyond the requirements will be in the running for the "Best Painted" award. (For Hobby Paint Scoring, all fully Battle Ready armies will receive a minimum of points with Showcase armies scoring more.)

Examples of exceptional armies are quality highlights, layering, basing, conversions and even a display board.

Painting Matrix

Competitors will be notified that their army is eligible for additional judging before the conclusion of the first round/day.

Round Bye and Ringer Participation

In the event there is an odd number of players in a round, a "ringer" army MAY be utilized to ensure all players are afforded the opportunity to play all of their games. The "ringer" will always be paired as having lost all their games. When playing the "ringer," even if the player loses, the player will still receive a win and a minimum of 70-points. The opponent of the "ringer" can also elect not to play the game, taking a 70 -point win.

Prize Support

Awards and Prizes are given for many different placings, painting and specific criteria. However, please know that ALL awards and prize support will be based on attendance.

Ticket Policy and Refunds

Tickets can be purchased Here. Tickets can be refunded up to the Sunday prior to the Event, minus fees. If a refund is desired, please understand that refunds can take up to a week to process.

Media Policy

By purchasing a ticket for the event, I hereby grant the Away Games™ permission to use my likeness in a photograph, video, or other digital media ("photo") in all of its publications, including web-based publications, without payment or other consideration.
